REPUTATION LEVEL

LOWER REPUTATION THAN AVERAGE

Rekreate Digital has 42.8 points less reputation than the average for Marketing, SEO & Advertising Agencies.

EXPERT VERDICT

Rekreate Digital is a 'Coming Soon' shell masquerading as a high-tech AI agency. With zero body text and zero proof links, the site is 100% signal and 0% substance, relying entirely on the weight of modern buzzwords like 'Agentic-as-a-Service' to establish a presence. It is a digital phantom with a well-structured schema but no actual evidence of life.

INFO DENSITY

Power-words vs. Substance ratio.

0

0% Reputation

The site suffers from a total absence of body text substance, with a char_count of 0 and no H1 or H2 headings detected. All information is concentrated in meta tags, which rely on power words like 'custom,' 'growing,' and 'full-service' without any supporting nouns or technical specifications. The lack of headings means there is 100% fluff saturation in the site's primary signals. There are zero instances of specific evidence, such as exact numbers, dated results, or named tools, within the page content.

SEMANTIC COHERENCE

Homepage promise vs. Sub-page reality.

0

0% Reputation

There is a maximum disconnect between the 'Signal' (meta claims of AI Agents and GaaS dashboards) and the 'Substance' (zero actual content). The homepage meta description promises to replace 6?10 SaaS subscriptions, but the site provides no sub-pages or body text to explain how this technical feat is achieved. No internal links or content blocks support the 'full-service digital marketing' positioning. This creates an identity shift where the site claims to be a high-tech solution while technically appearing as an empty shell.

TRUST & PROOF

Verifiable evidence vs. Trust Theatre.

3

15% Reputation

DIAGNOSIS: TRUST THEATRE

The site triggers a trust_theatre_flag because it reports a review_count of 1 with a proof_links_count of 0, indicating a testimonial without external verification. The claim of being a 'marketing partner' and 'replacing SaaS' is made without any linked case studies or verified vendor partnerships. There are no proof paths provided to external validation sources like Clutch, Google Reviews, or partner directories.

EVIDENCE: PROOF DENSITY

The ratio of verifiable evidence to assertions is 0:1, as every claim in the meta data (e.g., 'full-service digital marketing in Manila') lacks a corresponding body passage or proof point. There are zero named client case studies and zero technical specifications provided. The single review is mathematically outweighed by the volume of unsubstantiated technical promises.

COMMODITY FINGERPRINT

Detection of industry cliches/templates.

4

27% Reputation

The site makes heavy use of high-interest industry jargon such as 'AI Agents,' 'Automation,' and 'GaaS' (Agentic-as-a-Service) without defining a unique methodology. The value proposition of 'replacing SaaS subscriptions' is a common marketing automation cliché that lacks specific implementation details here. Because the site content is missing, it defaults to a boilerplate template fingerprint of a placeholder agency. The positioning could be applied to any emerging AI agency without requiring any changes to the current meta-language.

IDENTITY & AUTHORITY

Expert verifiability & Schema depth.

5

33% Reputation

DIAGNOSIS: AUTHORITY GAPS

While the schema_json identifies Ryan Kyle Ocampo as the founder and lists a 2023 founding date, there is no digital footprint or Person schema to verify his expertise in AI or marketing. The agency claims to be a specialist in 'Agentic-as-a-Service,' yet there is no technical evidence or proprietary tool documentation available. A significant technical credibility gap exists: an agency promising AI and automation excellence has failed to populate its own website with basic heading structures or content.

EVIDENCE: PERFORMANCE VS. CLAIMS

The site makes a bold, unverified functional claim: the ability to replace 6?10 SaaS subscriptions with one dashboard. This performance claim is presented without a single screenshot, technical protocol, or named framework to prove its feasibility. The marketing tone suggests high-level technical capability, but the site demonstrates zero tangible work or results.

INDUSTRY MATCH & SCORE SUMMARY

---

Marketing, SEO & Advertising Agencies Reputation: Rekrete Digital

Reputation: 12 / 100

(rekreatedigital.com)

INDUSTRY CLASSIFICATION

The site aligns with the Marketing, SEO & Advertising industry, specifically focusing on the emerging niche of AI automation and 'Agentic-as-a-Service.' The metadata claims a Manila-based agency structure, which is consistent with the ProfessionalService schema provided.

"The score is primarily driven by the Information Density (30) and Semantic Coherence (20) pillars, which received maximum penalties due to the total absence of body text and heading structure. Trust and Proof (17) also contributed heavily as the site makes functional software claims ('replace 10 SaaS tools') without a single screenshot or link. The score was only slightly mitigated by the Identity pillar (10), which noted that the organization has at least gone to the effort of creating valid JSON-LD schema."
